PROPOSALS

BY BENJAMIN EDES & CO.

OF BALTIMORE,

For Publishing a New and Valuable Work, by Subscription, entitled;

An Universal Dictionary

OF

Commercial Geography;

CONTAINING all that relates to the situation and extent of every commercial state in the world, and a comprehensive and correct account of their agriculture and products, their manufactures, fisheries and mines, and the commerce resulting therefrom—their laws, customs, tribunals and administrations of commerce—their land carriage and navigation; their banks and commercial companies; their monies weights and measures; their exports and imports; their exchange and the balance of trade; their colonies, &c. &c. arranged in alphabetical order—From the French of J. Pencher, author of the Dictionary of Police, of the Methodical Encyclopedia, &c.

The publishers have been at great expense in obtaining the only translation, revised and corrected by gentlemen of well known talents, which will make about 15 vols.
8 mo. containing 600 pages each, dedicated to the Merchants of the U. S. Copy right secured according to law.

The work now proposed to the public may be said to be a miniature view of the commercial world, unfolding the commerce of every climate. It combines the experience of past ages with the trade of the present day. In the author's preliminary discourse and introduction, will be found a most interesting history of commerce from remote ages progressively until the publication of the work, together with the tables of the money of the different nations of the world; tables of the old and present weights, & measures of distance, surface, solids and capacity in France, adopted since the revolution, &c. &c. Therein all the intricacies and labyrinth of trade are brought into one view.

The high estimation in which the Commerce of the world is held in the United States in their expectations of remuneration they will not be disappointed. They know not of any work in the English language on the subject of which it treats, of so general importance.

Gentlemen acquainted with the real merits of the work will be highly gratified in seeing it in English dress, to effect which the publishers have not hesitated to encounter every obstacle, and brave every expense. They are determined that the work shall be executed in a style which shall not deteriorate the character of the American press.

CONDITIONS.

The work will make at least 15 large octavo volumes, containing 600 pages each, and printed on a new type and paper of a good quality.

It will be delivered to subscribers bound in boards, at $3 for each volume, payable on delivery. To non-subscribers the price will be enhanced.

It is expected one volume will be delivered each month from the commencement. A list of the patrons of the work will be added to the last volume.

OUR SITUATION.

From the National Intelligencer.

The following official papers, respecting the state of our relations with France, go far to show that but little chance of an early accommodation of our differences with her on any principles compatible either with justice, or that respect which every independent nation owes to itself. These communications remove all doubt of the genuineness of the Duc de Cadore's note to General Armstrong, which, in point of language as well as substance, is equally reprehensible. The principles it assumes are such as we never could adopt without disgrace, and the terms an outrage on dignity and decorum. With such features, it is not surprising that its genuineness was questioned, for it was scarcely credible, that a government that we were told from various quarters professed friendship towards us, and a respect for neutral rights, should use language only fitted to excite indignation.

We are authorized to say that our government had no official knowledge of the existence of this note, until it was received through England a few days since by the Camilla. The publicity given to it must have been by the French government, as it made its appearance in the Paris papers a few days subsequent to its date—a memorable fact, indicating the resolution of that government, in thus committing itself to the world, to maintain the ground taken in it.

TRIPLICATE.

Extracts of a letter from General Armstrong to the Secretary of State, dated Paris, February 17, 1810.

"The note from Mr. Champagny, a copy of which is enclosed, was received yesterday."

"This goes by the way of England, and may not be much later in reaching you than my dispatch of the 28th ult. which took the same road."

CADORE'S LETTER.

The following is the government translation of the document which denounces our government, as being destitute of honor, energy, &c.

OFFICIAL COPY.

The undersigned has rendered an account to his majesty the emperor and king, of the conversation he has had with Mr. Armstrong, minister plenipotentiary of the United States of America. His majesty authorizes him to give the following answer:

His majesty should consider his decrees of Berlin and of Milan, as violating the principles of eternal justice, if they were not the compelled consequence of the British orders in council; and above all, of those of November 1807. When England has proclaimed her sovereignty universal, by the pretension of subjecting the universe to a tax on navigation and by extending the jurisdiction of her parliament over the industry of the world. His majesty thought that it was the duty of all independent nations to defend their sovereignty and to declare as denationalized (denationalized) those vessels which should range themselves under the domination of England, by recognizing the sovereignty which she arrogated over them.

His majesty distinguishes the search (la visite) from the recognition (reconnaissance) of the vessel. The recognition has no other end than to ascertain the reality of the flag. The search is an interior inquest held, although the verity of the flag be ascertained, and of which the result is either the impressment of individuals or the confiscation of merchandise, or the application of arbitrary laws or regulations.

His majesty could place no reliance on the proceeding of the United States, who, having no ground of complaint against France, comprised her in their acts of exclusion, and since the month of May, have forbidden the entrance of their ports to French vessels, under the penalty of confiscation. As soon as his majesty was informed of this measure, he considered himself bound to order reprisals on American vessels, not only in his territory, but likewise in the countries which are under his influence. In the ports of Holland, of Italy, of Spain, and of Naples, American vessels have been seized, because the Americans have seized French vessels. The Americans cannot hesitate as to the part which they are to take; they ought either to tear to pieces the act of their independence, and become again as before the revolution, the subjects of England, or take such measures as that their commerce and industry should not be tarified (tarified) by the English, which renders them more dependent than Jamaica, which at least has its assembly of representatives and its privileges. Men without just political views, without honor, without energy, may allege that payment of the tribute imposed by England may be submitted to, because it is light; but why do they not perceive that the English will no sooner have obtained admission of the principle than they will raise the tariff, in such way that the burden at first light becoming insupportable it will then be necessary to fight for interest, after having refused to fight for honor.

The undersigned avows with frankness that France has every thing to gain from receiving well the Americans in her ports. Her commercial relations with neutrals are advantageous to her, she is no way jealous of their prosperity. Great, powerful and rich, she is satisfied when by her own commerce or by that of neutrals, her exportations give to her agriculture and her fabrics the proper development.

It is now thirty years since the U. States of America founded, in the bosom of the new world, an independent country, at the price of the blood of so many immortal men, who perished on the field of battle, to throw off the leaden yoke of the English monarch. These generous men were far from supposing when they thus sacrificed their blood for the independence of America, that there would so soon be a question whether there should be imposed upon it a yoke more heavy than that which they had thrown off, by subjecting its industry to a tariff of British legislation and to the orders in council of 1807.

If then the minister of America can enter into an engagement, that the American vessels will not submit to the orders in council of England, of Nov. 1807, nor to any decree of blockade, unless this blockade should be real, the undersigned is authorized to conclude every species of convention tending to renew the treaty of commerce with America, and in which all the measures proper to consolidate the commerce and the prosperity of the Americans, shall be provided for.

The undersigned has considered it his duty to answer the verbal overtures of the American minister by a written note, that the President of the U. States may the better know the friendly intentions of France towards the U. S. and her favorable dispositions to American commerce.

The undersigned prays Mr. Armstrong to accept the assurance of his high consideration.

(Signed)

CHAMPAGNY, DUC DE CADORE:
Paris, 14th Feb. 1810.
His excellency the Minister Plenipotentiary of the U. States of America.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Forbes, consul of the United States at Hamburg, to General Armstrong, dated "Copenhagen, 3d March, 1810."

"Agreeable to a royal order, privateering is immediately to recommence."

[TRANSLATION.]

TRIESTE, 7th March, 1810.

Mr. Inspector General,
The confiscation of the American schooner Elizabeth, Captain Jeffery Farroll, has taken place in consequence of the orders of his Imperial and royal majesty, agreeably to the communication made to me on the 4th instant, by the governor-general.

I have since been notified of the intentions of his majesty, in a more formal manner, by the letter which the Duke of Gaete, minister of the finances, wrote to me on the 24th of February last.

According to the terms of the letter, and conformably to the orders of his majesty, it was enjoined immediately to lay an embargo on all American vessels which should be found, or which should arrive in the ports of the Illyrian provinces, and their cargoes directed to be confiscated.

These particulars furnish an answer to the enquiries contained in your letter of this day, and I think it would be expedient to communicate them to Capt. Farroll.

I have the honor, &c.

(Signed)

DAUCHY,
Count of the Empire, Councillor of State and Intendant General.

Paris, March 26, 1810.

SIR,
I have but a moment to enclose a copy of M. de Gallo's letter to Mr. Hammett.

I am, sir, with respect, Your most obedient serv't,
(Signed)

JOHN ARMSTRONG.

Honorable R. Smith,
Secretary State.

[TRANSLATIONS.]

NAPLES, 9th March, 1810.

The minister of foreign affairs of his majesty the king of the two Sicilies, to Mr. T. Hammett, Consul of the United States of America.

SIR,

I have laid before his majesty the repeated demands which you have addressed to me in behalf of the American citizens and vessels lying in the ports of his kingdom. His majesty cannot contemplate without pain the little consonance which appears to him to exist between your solicitations and the principles adopted by the government of the United States which are contained in the provisions of the act of the 1st of March of the past year, operating against the commerce of France, and that of those states leagued with her in the political system of the French empire.

After that act you ought not to be surprised sir, at the vigorous measures which his majesty the king has been compelled to adopt against the vessels of your nation laden with prohibited merchandise.

With respect to the Americans who compose the crews of the confiscated vessels, his majesty has directed his minister of the marine to procure passages for them, in order that they may return to America.

I flatter myself, sir, that the alterations which may take place in the resolutions of your government, will dispose his majesty to measures more conformable to his views, and to those sentiments of friendship and good understanding which the king is desirous should exist, and which he wishes to cultivate with the United States of America.

Accept, sir, the assurances of my very distinguished consideration.

(Signed)

The Marquis of Gallo.

LATE FOREIGN NEWS.

Extracted from Dublin Papers to April 11, 1810. received at Boston, by the ship Iris, Conway, arrived at Salem.

LONDON, April 6, half past 7, P. M.

"Some egregious errors appear in the papers of this evening regarding Sir Francis Burdett. He is neither in the Tower nor intends to be there. He disputes the authority of the Speaker's warrant for his commitment, and means to resist its execution by every legal expedient. A considerable crowd is before Sir Francis' house in Piccadilly, but he is himself at his country residence at Wimbledon.

"During the whole of the morning a numerous concourse have attended at the Tower Hill, and the streets adjacent, with the expectation of seeing Sir Francis. Lord Moira, in his official situation, has been at the Tower to receive the member for Westminster. As a measure of precaution, for which I trust there will be no occasion, the guns of the principal gate and bastion towards Tower-street have been loaded and artillery has been planted along the interior street of the fortress leading to the portcullis. The garrison has been greatly reinforced. Such are the particulars I have received from a special messenger who has just left the place.

"In Westminster meetings have been held by the friends of their representative, to consider what expedient they should adopt to be restored to the benefit of the elective franchise, of which, by the vote of this morning in the Commons House, they allege they are deprived, and many thousand signatures are by this time obtained, to a requisition to the high bailiff for a meeting in the Palace Yard, which it is said will be immediately appointed. On the same opportunity, a vote of thanks is to be proposed to Sir Francis Burdett, for what is called his confidential letter to his constituents."

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

"The case of Sir Francis Burdett at this moment absorbs every consideration. After the decision of the House of Commons last night that Sir Francis should be committed to the Tower, it was naturally to be expected that the hon. baronet would have been conveyed to his place of confinement in the course of this day, but to the present period he has not been taken thither—it is expected, however, that in the course of this evening he will be lodged in the Tower, since I have positive information that the mode of his proceeding to the sergeant at arms has been arranged with Mr. Burdett Jones, for that purpose. Various stories are in circulation with respect to the cause of his non-appearance at this particular juncture, but I will repeat none of them except that which I take to be the simple fact, namely, that Sir Francis Burdett, anticipating the decision of the house, on this case, and conceiving that it might be some time before he could spend an hour in the bosom of his family at his own fire side, deemed it proper to join his wife and family at Wimbledon yesterday afternoon, whither he was seen proceeding on horseback about 3 o'clock, accompanied by a man-servant. In order to be put in possession of the proceedings in the house, he desired his brother to attend the whole of the debate. At 3 o'clock this morning Mr. Colman, the sergeant, was in possession of the warrant, signed by the Speaker, for the commitment of Sir F. Burdett to the Tower. It is understood that Sir Francis has agreed to the propriety of going to the Tower as private as possible. Be this as it may, an uncommonly great attention has been excited, and the town has been all day, and is at present, extremely agitated.

"During the whole of the day a crowd has been assembled in the vicinity of the Tower, at times vociferating 'Burdett forever!' a much greater assembly of persons fill the street of Piccadilly and the avenue leading to it—at present they indicate no mischief, but what might will produce I cannot say."

SECOND EDITION.

We have exclusively received intelligence from London so late as half past 4 o'clock, on Saturday evening. At that hour Sir Francis Burdett was still at his house in Piccadilly, before which were at that time the horse guards patrol.

From the morning Chronicle of Saturday we take the following paragraph:

Sir Francis arrived in town about one o'clock, where he received a note from the sergeant at arms, informing him of the order of the house for his commitment, and requesting to know when he should wait upon with the speaker's warrant, for the purpose of accompanying him to the Tower. Sir Francis, however, had not been many minutes at his house, when Mr. Colman entered, and he was informed that the hon. Baronet would be at leisure to speak with him about 6 o'clock this day. Upon this Mr. Colman departed; but about six o'clock in the evening he again called, and stating to Sir Francis that he had the speaker's order to execute the warrant forthwith, the hon. Baronet replied that he would not go with him. Mr. Colman urged the authority of his warrant, and that he was entitled if he thought proper, to call in aid for its enforcement. Sir Francis denied the authority of such an instrument, alleging his right to call in aid, if he thought proper, to resist its execution, and expressed his resolution to repel force by force. Here the conversation terminated and Mr. Colman withdrew.

In the course of the day the lord mayor, it is said, sent a note to the secretary of state, requesting that Sir Francis might not be sent to the city, as he was apprehensive of some violation of the public peace.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

In the evening the multitude assembled before the door of Sir Francis Burdett was so great as completely to obstruct the passage through Piccadilly between 8 and nine o'clock, a detachment proceeded to attack a house in Berkeley square, supposed to be Mr. Lethbridge's, but which is now in the possession of Mr. Raikes. The mob had, however, destroyed the whole of the windows before the mistake was discovered. We understand the dead body of Mrs. Raikes, who died within these few days, was at that time in the house. The mob next proceeded to the house of Lord Castlereagh, in King street, St. James's, of which the whole of the windows were instantly demolished. Returning again to Berkeley square, the crowd attacked Lord Dartmouth's house, and treated it in the same manner. They then proceeded to the house of Mr. Yorke, which experienced so violent an attack that in a moment not a pane of glass remained whole. Mr. Percival's windows were also broken. These proceedings induced some of the inhabitants to put lights in their windows, in the hopes that they would thereby avert the fury of the assailants. The circumstance was quickly seized upon by the multitude, and they very inconsistently required lights to be shewn as a proof of concurrence in their sentiments respecting Sir Francis Burdett. The consequence was, that all the streets in the of the town were brilliantly illuminated. A large mob, advancing around Chatham's house, a Hill street, top of the horse guards, which had led out, very opportunely, met the guards, and dispersed them.

Some of the guns at the Tower were with grape shot.
The course of yesterday, sir Francis was visited by sir Samuel Romilly, Whitbread, Mr. Wardle, Lord Thaddus Lord Folkestone.
In addition to the attack, which we have above to have been made by the mob windows of certain houses, we have one on the house of sir J. Anstruther, which, it is said, has suffered considerably, not only the windows, but some of the chandeliers, and other valuable furniture in the interior of the rooms, are to be destroyed.

Britain and the United States.
It is fully understood that the John Adams out the stipulations upon which the guis Wellesley and Mr. Pakenham to adjust all differences, subject to sanction of the American government; this appears the most certain, from inference which has recently transpired, namely, that Mr. Morier has been appointed to succeed Mr. Jackson as British Plenipotentiary in America. Mr. Morier had been appointed as British Consul, in the Caracas; and is nephew to the gentleman of the same name, who is secretary to the Peruvian embassy.

Remark.—The House of Commons adjourned from Friday, April 6, to Monday, April 9. We must, therefore, receive a report of April 10, before we can learn what course the Commons took on Sir Francis's existing their authority. His conduct however, explains what he meant by the word assist in his letter to his constituents; and which was insisted by his friends in the House to contemplate only resistance in argument and vote. It is singular, that Sir F. B. should contend so violently for his own privileges, and yet think so little of the privileges of the legislature of his country.

DUBLIN, April 10.
Sunday a very fine American vessel, laden with timber, arrived in our harbor, and within a few days past several others of the same description also arrived, which must afford a seasonable supply of that article, and reduce the present price considerably.
There is a rumor again afloat of a negociation being on foot between Great Britain and France. Certain it is that Mr. McKenzie was to leave London on Thursday last for Morlaix, for the avowed purpose of negotiating an exchange of prisoners; but tho' this may be the ostensible object, it is believed that peace is connected with this mission.
It is rumored that Bonaparte had positively promised an act of grace to such British subjects as were detained in France at the commencement of the war; and such is the sensibility of the British funds to all pacific rumors that the 3 per cent. consols have risen one half per cent.

IN pursuance of a decree of the worshipful court of King George county, we the subscribers, commissioners therein named, will expose to public sale to the highest bidder on the premises for ready cash, on Tuesday the 12th of June next, one undivided moiety of the TRACT OF LAND lying in the county of Fairfax, on the waters of Difficult Run, about fifteen miles from Alexandria—the Little River Turnpike Road passing thro' the tract. This land was conveyed by a deed of gift from John Ashton, sen. to Charles H.
Ashton and others, and is sold to satisfy a debt due Austin Smith from said Charles H.
Ashton.

TUESDAY, MAY 29.

The world is mad!—When such men as Samuel Gardner receive the votes of nearly a majority of a democratic assembly, we have no hesitation in averring that the republic is lost.

From the New Port (R. I.) Mercury.
J. Nathan Nichols, esq. elected third justice of the county of Kent, is a federalist, and was chosen by a majority of four votes in opposition to Samuel Gardner the democratic candidate, who a few years since was convicted of the atrocious crime of ARSON and was sentenced to be publicly whipped at the cart's tail, on his bare back, WHICH SENTENCE WAS FULLY EXECUTED.
These facts were stated and admitted, and yet the election of this culprit was strenuously advocated by his excellency the governor, and by Nathaniel H. Ward, and finally received the votes of thirty-four democratic members, in opposition to an honest man!

The average majority for the democratic prox of general officers about 190 votes.— So far as the election has progressed, every federalist with three or four exceptions, has been swept from office.—Whether their places are filled by better men, the public will have an opportunity to prove.

INTERESTING.
Extract of a letter from Bordeaux, to a merchant in Baltimore, dated 2d of April.

General Armstrong has been officially notified that the cargoes of the American vessels ordered from Spain to Bayonne, are to be publicly sold—but they arrive so slowly that we cannot anticipate a sale for many months. He has applied to know what is to be the fate of the vessels, but has received no answer.

By letters of the 17th March, just received from Naples, I learn that all American vessels have been confiscated & sold, and the crews put to work.

All American property is RE SEIZED at Tonningen.

An arrival from Boston brings reports that the house of representatives had repealed the non-intercourse act, and that immense shipments were making for this country. God forbid, that either of these events should have occurred! One fact is certain, Gen. Armstrong has engaged a ship now at St. Sebastians, to come round to this port, to take himself and family to America in May.

The schooner Tilsit has arrived at Bayonne.

A Russian ambassador sails for Philadelphia in the Francis; and a French ambassador goes by return of the Tilsit.

Extract of a letter from St. Sebastians dated April 7, received at Philadelphia.

I had the pleasure to write you on the 19th Dec. last, giving you a statement of the favorable prospects of our market, which at the time were encouraging to the speculator; since that, great change has taken place in the political state of affairs; at the same time I am pleased to observe you are not interested in any way whatever in the number of shipments that have been made to this port from your quarter. We were daily expecting that the introduction of the American cargoes would be permitted into France, but our hopes and expectations soon vanished, by an order of the emperor Napoleon for the sequestration of all the American ships and cargoes, which was put in execution here on the 28th of Dec. last, it extends to Tonningen. This measure of the French government, at first was said to be momentary, and that it was only laid to find out some English property, under the American flag. Now I am assured from General Armstrong at Paris, that the explanation he has received of the motives, to the seizure of American ships and cargoes, in the ports of Spain, is that the emperor will not consent that his allies shall have a commerce that he systematically denies to France.

I have a number of American vessels to my address, part of their cargoes already landed and are put under three keys, one of which is kept by me, the two others by the general and commissary at war. They are now transporting the cargoes to the custom house at Bayonne, where it is said they are to be sold, and the proceeds held subject to the French government orders, until they hear the determination that America will take.
The cargoes of the 30 American vessels that are under sequestration, consists of about 3000 bales of cotton, 80 cases, 136 sarcos and 7 hhds. Indigo, 1924 bags, 60 tierces and 308 bags coffee, 10000 boxes and 32 hhds. sugar, 1600 barrels pot ash, 3360 bags pepper, 300 tons Fustic and Campeachy logwood, 270 bags gum, 96 casks Rocas, &c.

We find the following advertisement in a Paris paper of Feb. 23.

Sale of a Prize at Calais. On Monday, March 5, will be sold at public vendue, the cargo of the American ship Jane, captain Stone, of Norfolk, in Virginia, captured by the corsair Duke of Dalmatia. The cargo consists of 687 bags, and 7 bbls. coffee, of the first quality; 2000 boxes of sugar, 4 barrels of leaf tobacco, and 1 barrel of snuff.

A letter from Halifax, May 16, says, "Vessels are already up for different parts of the states, and I have no doubt considerable trade will be carried on to mutual convenience and advantage."

(Boston Palladium.)

BALTIMORE, May 26.
Captain Blackstone, of schooner Nancy, at Boston from Alexandria, reports that he spoke on the 17th May off the South Shoal, an English schooner 30 days from St. Thomas's, for Passamaquoddy, and was informed by the captain that he left a number of American vessels at Hayti, mostly belonging to Boston, but none of them of Portland, all under detention by Christophe, among them was the "Hooper," of Boston, (who was in much difficulty); and brig Joseph, of Boston. This act of Chris-tophe's was, in consequence of the detention by the President of the United States, of a vessel which had been fitted out at Baltimore for him. Was also informed that several Portland and other American vessels were at St. Thomas's.

Alexa, May 29.

Three Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber on the 22d instant, a Mulatto Boy, named HUGH, an apprentice to the shoe-making business, about five feet high, much pitted with the small pox, some what pert when spoken to, but at the same time a down look-—had on when he eloped from my service a striped round jacket and muckoon trousers, his hair is curly and cut in the fashion—Whoever apprehends the said boy and brings him to me shall receive the above reward.

NOTICE.

THE Creditors of the house of Clineham and McGaw, formerly of Alexandria, merchants, are requested to transmit their respective claims duly authenticated to Geo-W. Strong, esq. counsellor at law, No. 118, Burling Slip, New York. The object of this request is to ascertain the entire amount of all claims on the said house in the city of Alexandria and its vicinity, as preparatory to making some proposition for their final settlement. As it will be impracticable to submit to the creditors any specific proposition until the whole amount of the debts is fully ascertained, it is of consequence that they should all attend to this notice; and it is hoped they will not suffer the period for transmitting their accounts to be protracted beyond the 20th day of June next.

GENUINE MEDICINES.

THE LATE RICHARD LEE, JR. OF N. YORK.
As prepared from the original receipt in possession of the subscriber, his widow, by whom they are prepared and without whose signature none are genuine.

Obstinate Coughs, Colds, Asthma, &c.

Are immediately relieved and speedily cured by the use of

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR FOR COUGHS.

DEAR bought experience has taught thousands that only and heated medicines, joined with strong opiates or sleep drugs, repeated doses of which flatter and deceive the patient for the present, by procuring momentary ease; experience, I say, has taught thousands, that the common opiates and balsamics, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs, in their most distressing symptoms: that they weaken the stomach and impair the digestion, disturb the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing and excite fever. But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evidenced by perfectly opposite effects. A single trial will prove, that it restores the termination of the fluids to the surface of the body, and brings on the common healthful perspiration—that it dislodges and evacuates the tough viscid phlegm or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheedes the acrimonious humor which irritates them, and finally discharges it. Thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder for the sake of moderating for the present some of its painful effects.

To parents who have children afflicted with the whooping cough, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Selected Recommendations.

Being desirous to make public for the good of others, the excellent quality of Hamilton's elixir, prepared by the late Mr. Lee, I have sent you the following account of the benefit I have received from it, which I hope will induce others to give it a trial. In consequence of a bruise on the breast received from a fall, my health grew bad, my breathing became very difficult, and frequently I have had suddenly to rise up in my bed with all the horrors of immediate suffocation. Add to these a constant pain in my breast, and a cough, a great loss of strength & flesh, and you may conceive that my symptoms evidently indicated an approaching consumption. The advice of a most eminent physician was resorted to, and afterwards a second was called in, but without giving me any relief. Another physician who knew me and the circumstances of my case, advised me to give Hamilton's Elixir a trial, saying he had used it in his practice and always found it to do much good. A bottle was procured from Mr. Birch's, and I found relief before I had taken half of it. I continued to use it & was soon strong to attend to business. On taking cold, some of my former symptoms return, but are always removed by a dose or two of the Elixir.

George Benner, jun.

No. 11, Budd street, Philadelphia.
Mrs. H. Lee, New York.

Mr. Abijah Henly, Bridge street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's Elixir, of a very complicated disorder, occasioned by a very severe cold caught several months ago. He breathed with the greatest difficulty, and was often thrown into weakness when he attempted to walk any distance, and his voice would frequently fail in such a degree that he could only attempt to whisper. He has been upwards of six weeks without a return of his complaints; and desires to give his public testimony in favor of this invaluable medicine.

Itch Cured.

By once using Lee's Sovereign Ointment
The proprietor informs those persons and families who are suffering under this disease, against the infection of which no person is safe; that if this ointment is used at night on going to bed it never fails to perform a cure by the following morning, as thousands who have used it during the last ten years can testify. The peculiar excellencies of this infallible remedy for the itch, above every other, are the certainty of the cure by a single application; the ingredients being so innocent as to be applied with perfect safety to the tenderest infant; and its being not only free from any offensive smell, but equally agreeable with the pleasantest perfume.

Dr. Hamilton's Grand Restorative.

Which the inventor confidently recommends as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief, and permanent cure of various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavorable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any destructive intemperance, the unskilful or frequent use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad layings in, &c.

HAMILTON'S CELEBRATED WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Among the symptoms attending Worms are, disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—bad and corrupt urine—itching in the nose, and about the seat—convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes a privation of speech—irregular appetite, sometimes in the ing food and sometimes voracious—purging with slimy and foetid stools—vomiting—large and hard belly—pains and sickness at the stomach—pains in the head and thighs, with lowness of spirits—slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—a dry cough—excessive thirst—sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and tuffed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A NEW NOVEL.

Just Published, and for Sale by COTTON & STEWART,
Price 1 Dollar,
GLENCARN;

THE DISAPPOINTMENTS OF YOUTH, A NOVEL.

By GEORGE WATKINSON, Esq.
OF WASHINGTON CITY,
Author of the Lawyer and Child of Feeling.

The celebrity of this author's "LAW-YER" and "CHILD OF FEELING" induced the publishers to engage in this work, and without detracting from the merits of the former, feel themselves justified in stating that his GLENCARN is superior to either.
It is submitted without further recommendation, with a wish, that the American reviewers may give further encouragement to this young gentleman's endeavors to entertain, instruct and moralize his fellow citizens, in a way seemingly well calculated to attract their attention.
